

A Revolutionary New Approach to Discovery

For the last decade, libraries have been promised a solution that will help them deliver a research experience on point with our modern, digital world. As the innovator of library technology solutions, we see it as our duty to deliver on that promise.

We're proud to introduce our newest product – Inspire Discovery.

Bring Students Back to the Library

PUT YOUR LIBRARY AT THE CENTER OF THEIR WORK

With our newest solution, you give your students and faculty the benefits of a personal research assistant with one comprehensive search experience.

Discovery offers the most:

- ▶ Contextually relevant information to extend and enhance discovery and make new connections
- ▶ Meaningful, centralized presentation of search results
- ▶ Visual, intuitive experience, inspiring curiosity and generating new ideas

THE FIRST OF ITS KIND

With solutions of the past, students, faculty, and researchers resigned to sifting through lists of search results, hunting for clues and answers in a long list of traditional bibliographic resources.

We've re-engineered the discovery experience to give students an intuitive, dynamic experience consistent with their expectations of modern media and technology.

We built our solution with several fundamental differences, including:

Native Linked Data

By transforming your library's MARC records into BIBFRAME, Discovery reveals multi-dimensional relationships. Discovery accesses a broader collection of resources, yielding results of greater context and variety.

A Contextual Interface

Powered by a proprietary context engine, Discovery reveals more than just the linear list of text descriptions found in other search and discovery solutions. Search results are displayed in a Context Wheel™ that reflects the relationships between resources, people, and concepts as we inherently think about them.

BRING STUDENTS BACK TO THE LIBRARY — AGAIN AND AGAIN

With Discovery, students and faculty will see your library as an indispensable, total solution for research. They'll have access to more of the knowledge they seek and uncover new information they weren't expecting — all in a more compelling, comprehensive presentation than any other search solution provides today, and they'll engage in more meaningful exchanges with your librarians.

Students will conduct research with greater ease, speed, and new ideas, and they'll value your library even more than they do today.

See it to believe it.

To truly understand why this discovery solution is like none other in its class, you need to experience it.
